

ITALIAN OPEN - Introduction and Event Schedule

From June 13 to 16 in the beautiful and windy waters of Chiessi (Elba Island), will take place the Italian Formula Windsurfing Championship and Memorial Cup to Davide Beverino. The event this year will have a greater focus, as it is a 'tour stop' of the European Cup, the new European circuit for formula windsurfing.

So with the best Italian athletes will also compete, in our waters, the best European athletes.

Chiessi is now one of the most famous and well known areas for practicing windsurfing, especially of formula, thanks to its thermal winds of moderate strength. This wonderful location is home for over 15 years to formula and slalom races, of all levels, including the Italy Cup & Italian Championships including, unforgettably, the last edition of 2004, with nearly 70 athletes competing.

We are particularly honored to commemorate on this occasion, our dear friend Davide Beverino, who was very fond of this spot, and for many years trained and competed right here with us all. His memory still strong and indelible in our hearts.
